

FOREWORD

This Journal has been published and made available to personnel serving on the plantations and others committed to the development and sustenance of the sector, for a long period of time.

It is with a view to providing information and enhancing knowledge that we continue to make available this journal to all interested in the progress of the plantation sector, which has been of late achieving greater heights.

We at the National Institute of Plantation Management are striving to meet your requirements with a view to assisting all in the sector to be aware of the latest trends and achieve productivity gains.

We welcome suggestions for improvement of this publication and proactive participation from all, sharing your knowledge worthy of publication, with a view to meeting the requirements of all.

We are looking for greater commitment, involvement and sharing of information and knowledge.
