

K M A Kendaragama, G W J Chandrasiri, A G S de Silva
(Field Crops Research and Development Institute, Maha Illuppallama)

Soil reaction has a great influence on the availability of plant nutrients which is generally highest between pH 6.5 and 7.5. The purpose of this study was to determine the status and nature of distribution of pH of four soils, namely, Reddish Brown Earth (RBE), Low Humic Gley (LHG), Non Calcic Brown